Preface

This programme does not claim to be perfect.

It is neither a declaration of faith nor an election speech.

It is a starting point. A call. A compass. An attempt to embody a different relationship to politics – less vertical, less closed, more human.

Not a single word in this programme should be incomprehensible to a ten-year-old child.

Because a just project can be expressed simply. And because this country above all needs clear truth, not vague language.

Three convictions drive us:

- It is still possible to rebuild the people, if we speak to each other without shame or dogma.

- Politics only makes sense if it rediscovers the taste for the essential: simple, dignified, and shared life.
- Not everything comes down to economics. There are values that cannot be measured, but which keep a country standing.

This text was born of lived experience. Of an old anger. Of a trust, despite everything.

It does not come from fear or withdrawal. It comes from an intuition: if no one puts the pieces back together, the country will fall apart.

It is addressed to no particular camp. It is addressed to all those who, in an increasingly heavy silence, feel that something is no longer right.

It is time to restore meaning. And connection.

Jean-François Dann – Summer 2025

I. Constitution & State

A people stands not only by what it owns, but by what it shares.

For a State to live, it needs a language, a currency, borders, a common foundation.

If any of these elements are taken away, it becomes a manager without a people, a province without a destiny.

New Citizen Constitution

Drafted by a mixed assembly (randomly selected citizens, elected representatives, volunteers), voted by referendum. Taught from secondary school, translated into regional languages, reviewed and symbolically signed each year by every municipality.

Youth Referendum at 16

Every five years, young people aged 16 to 25 may propose national ideas. Those that gather one million supporters trigger a public consultative vote.

End of the Banking Monopoly on Money Creation

Revision of Article 123 of the Lisbon Treaty (or targeted withdrawal), allowing the Bank of France to directly finance projects of collective utility.

Inclusion of the Refusal of Mandatory Digital Currency

No authority may impose a central digital currency for exclusive or priority use. The right to physical currency (notes, coins) is guaranteed. Every citizen can buy, sell, or transfer without digital tracing, except by judicially authorised decision.

Annual Sovereign People's Day

Every 21 September, municipalities organise a citizens' agora. No work, no advertising. A screen-free day to reflect together on the country we want to keep alive.

Civic Education from Secondary School

The meaning of law, budgets, local government, conflicts of interest, etc., is taught in concrete terms, using role-playing, debates, and the real reading of enacted laws.

Free Republican Oath at 18

Every young person may, if they wish, publicly affirm their commitment to do their part for a just and fraternal country. This is neither an obligation nor a political pledge. It is a symbolic rite of passage.

Mandatory Clarity in Legislation

Every enacted law is accompanied by a version comprehensible to a 15-year-old. This summary is validated by an independent citizens' commission.

A nation cannot survive without its language, its currency, its borders.

Language is our memory. Currency is our ability to act. Borders are our responsibility. Remove any one of these three, and all that remains is an administered territory – not a country.

Philosophy: Jean-Jacques Rousseau

"English people think they are free. They are only so during the election of their representatives."
— Jean-Jacques Rousseau

Objectives by 2030:

- 100% of secondary students understand the Constitution (citizens' version taught)
- Youth referendum established by 2028
- Direct financing of collective projects by the Bank of France operational before 2030
- Constitutional guarantee of the right to physical currency by 2028
- One citizens' screen-free day per year in all municipalities by 2028
- Civic education (law, budget, voting) in 100% of secondary schools by 2029
- "Plain language" version of every law published by 2028

II. Justice & Transparency

Citizens' Jury

In every trial with major public impact (environment, corruption, institutional violence), a citizens' jury drawn by lot completes the panel of magistrates. It holds a public recommendation power. Transparency of debates is mandatory.

Filmed Pardon

For certain minor offences, the perpetrator can choose to publicly film an act of acknowledgement and reparation towards the victim or society. If the victim accepts, the pardon is considered granted. A different way to defuse reoffending through human connection.

Common Utility Villages

Creation of living spaces for non-violent offenders. Social work, reparation, studies, mentoring. Supervised, open, without digital surveillance. An alternative way to repay one's debt while regaining one's place.

Inviolability of the Home (Except in Flagrante Delicto)

Any search outside of urgent or flagrant circumstances must be authorised by an independent judge. The home is a sanctuary, not a neutral space.

State Fault Register

An annual report lists all judgments handed down against the State or its agents. Details of offences, compensation, and administrative follow-up. Trust can only return if truth is visible.

Independent Commission on Prisons

Random visits, public reports, cross-testimonies (staff, inmates, carers). To bring detention out of invisibility and prevent structural abuse.

Absolute Right to Silence and Refusal of Behavioural Analysis

Every person has the right to remain silent, including in non-judicial procedures. Refusal of emotional encoding, digital scoring, or interpretation of intent without evidence is protected.

Codes Rewritten in Plain Language

All major codes (civil, criminal, labour, procedural, etc.) will be revised, clarified, and simplified. Each text will have a citizens' version in accessible language, validated by mixed panels (magistrates, citizens, independent jurists). The goal: for everyone to know their risks, rights, and value. No law without readability. No justice without clarity.

Philosophy: Hannah Arendt

"Evil is often banal. But the courage to judge remains one of humanity's highest responsibilities."
— Hannah Arendt

Objectives by 2030

- Citizens' jury included in 100% of major public trials
- 500 "filmed pardon" alternatives piloted by 2028
- 5 pilot common utility villages operational by 2029
- Citizens' versions of the Criminal Code and Labour Code published by 2030

III. Freedom & Expression

Right to Silence and Nuance

No one can be forced to pick a side, to speak on command, or to reduce a complex thought to a binary slogan.

Ministry of Free Thought

Creation of an independent body responsible for ensuring plurality of ideas in the media, universities, and public administration. It does not censor: it enlightens, protects, guarantees that all voices can exist in the public debate.

Constitutional Right to Doubt

No citizen can be stigmatised for questioning a dominant narrative or official truth, as long as they do not incite hatred or violence.

Recognised Citizen Pseudonymity

Everyone has the right to participate in the digital public sphere under a pseudonym, except in cases of threat or defamation. Pseudonymity is a legitimate protection tool, not a guilty concealment.

Abolition of Opinion Offences

Any law punishing an expressed opinion not inciting hatred or crime is repealed. The State does not protect an ideology. It protects freedom.

End of Automated Censorship

No AI can suppress content or block a voice without explicit, contestable human control. Algorithms must be transparent, their criteria public, their limits verifiable.

Repeal of All Laws Contrary to These Principles

An independent legislative audit will list laws, decrees, or regulations that limit freedom of expression, thought, doubt, or withdrawal. All provisions incompatible with these principles will be repealed. Freedom does not accommodate permanent exceptions.

Philosophy: Albert Camus

“Freedom is not the absence of commitment, but the ability to choose. And to say no when everyone else says yes.”

— Albert Camus

Objectives by 2030

- Effective abolition of opinion offences before 2030
- Online citizen pseudonymity platform, legally protected
- End of automated AI censorship in public services
- 100% of public institutions equipped with a protected expression protocol

IV. Living Democracy

Mid-term Recall of Elected Officials

Any mandate may be terminated through a local or national recall procedure if a petition reaches a defined threshold. The elected official is heard publicly. If recalled, new elections are held.

Partial Random Selection in Assemblies

One third of seats may be assigned to randomly selected citizens, trained, supported, and not eligible for re-election. This breaks up cliques and brings unfiltered voices into the political arena.

Assembly of the Unrepresented

A consultative chamber composed of voluntary citizens from among the abstainers, the precarious, and the forgotten territories. It may publish alerts, counterproposals, and grassroots accounts. It gives a voice to those who have never had one.

Permanent Citizen Oversight of Elected Officials

Each elected official is monitored by a local citizen committee. Public monitoring: votes, attendance, commitments, conflicts of interest. Any misconduct can be reported nationally and made visible.

Mandatory Financial Transparency of Elected Officials

All management of public funds must be archived, explained, and made visible. Every euro spent in the people's name must be traceable.

Municipal Citizens' Journals

In every municipality, a free local media outlet, co-funded by residents, reports on public decisions, gives minorities a voice, and publishes real-life accounts.

Expanded Right of Citizen Alert

Every citizen can contest a local or national project. If a support threshold is reached, the project is suspended and a public commission is convened.

Council for Future Generations

A consultative body composed of randomly selected young people aged 15 to 30 examines laws for their impact over the next 20 years. It may issue a public, opposable opinion on any text deemed toxic or short-termist.

Philosophy: Cornelius Castoriadis

"There is only democracy where power is questionable by those who endure it. And where the law can be amended by those who obey it."

— Cornelius Castoriadis

Objectives by 2030

- First successful citizen recall procedure of an elected official before 2029
- Assembly of the Unrepresented present in 30 departments before 2030
- Public monitoring journal for elected officials active in 100% of municipalities by 2030
- Annual publication of the rate of promises kept by elected officials

V. Diplomacy & Geopolitics

Explanatory Diplomacy

All major international decisions (alliances, interventions, withdrawals) must be explained to the people in clear language. A public platform broadcasts arguments and counterarguments, enabling mass consultative voting.

Citizens' Diplomatic Corps

Creation of a worldwide network of citizens trained in mediation, human rights, and local culture. They do not represent a power, but a people. Their mission: listen, pacify, bear witness.

Framed Military Disobedience

Every soldier has the right to refuse an order they consider contrary to human conscience or fundamental rights. A Council of Elders rules on borderline cases. The duty to obey does not override the right to think.

Withdrawal from NATO Integrated Military Command

France regains its strategic autonomy. Logistical, humanitarian, and defensive cooperation is maintained, but no military decision without a people's vote or independent legal oversight.

Systemic Non-Interference Treaty

France publicly commits not to finance, organise or support any regime change abroad. Except in the case of an official appeal from an oppressed people or a documented genocide.

Suspension of European Treaties Not Compliant with Popular Sovereignty

France will suspend application of European clauses deemed contrary to the general interest or the restored constitutional principles. A democratic conference for evaluation will be organised from 2028 to define the compatibility of current treaties with the new social contract. We are not leaving Europe. We refuse to remain in a logic that destroys peoples in the name of markets.

Philosophy: Edgar Morin

“The only true homeland is Earth. And the only real policy is that which prevents the worst.”
— Edgar Morin

Objectives by 2030

- Effective withdrawal from NATO’s integrated military command
- Public conference on European treaties organised from 2028
- 100 citizen diplomats trained, recognised and active worldwide
- Public explanatory diplomacy platform, translated into 10 languages
- Annual report on France’s international positions accessible to all

VI. Public Services & Transformation

Restoring Meaning in Public Services

Every public servant will have the right to collective time for reflection on the meaning of their mission. The human connection once again becomes the compass—not just ticking boxes.

Mixed User-Staff Committees

In every structure (hospital, welfare office, town hall, etc.), a monthly committee brings together volunteer users and professionals. The aim: to simplify, improve, and humanise services together.

TOGAFrance Refoundation Plan

All public services are re-examined using a rigorous national method, based on vision, workflows, resources, and real usefulness. Each service produces a readable, visible charter, revised annually.

National Audit by Users

An open platform collects millions of citizens’ experiences with public services. These accounts guide decisions, budgets, and priorities.

Recruitment by Vocation and Experience

In care, education, or proximity roles, anonymous competitive exams are replaced by a process of human commitment, evaluated by peers, users, and alumni. To serve, one must understand those they serve.

Right of Initiative for Public Servants

Any public servant can propose a local improvement. If supported by a mixed committee, the project is launched on an experimental basis. The field becomes a laboratory for transformation.

Philosophy: Simone Weil

“Respect for reality—that is justice. And every service is an encounter with reality.”

— Simone Weil

Objectives by 2030

- 1,000 mixed user-staff committees established by 2028
- TOGAFrance plan applied to 10 priority public services by 2029
- Public “User Audit” platform operational before 2028
- All staff trained in active listening and relational practices by 2030

VI. Public Services & Transformation

Restoring Meaning in Public Services

Every public servant will have the right to collective time for reflection on the meaning of their mission. The human connection once again becomes the compass—not just ticking boxes.

- TOGAFrance plan applied to 10 priority public services by 2029
- Public “User Audit” platform operational before 2028
- All staff trained in active listening and relational practices by 2030

VIII. Work & Solidarity

Creation of Individual Activity in 4 Hours, Immediate Social Protection

Every citizen can create an activity (crafts, business, service, solidarity project, artistic, agricultural, etc.) in less than four hours, via a single access point (online or physical). Upon declaration, the person benefits from complete social protection: health, retirement, accident, maternity/paternity, disability, unemployment... with no conditions or waiting period. If the activity ceases or evolves, protection remains, with no loss of rights. Support and a mutual aid platform are systematically offered.

Common Utility Contract (CUC)

Anyone excluded from employment can propose a useful local activity (shared garden, mediation, assistance, etc.). If validated by a citizens’ committee, it is paid at the minimum wage and recognised as real employment.

Universal Dignity Leave

Right to a six-month break in a lifetime, paid at an enhanced basic income rate, to rebuild, care for a loved one, or change direction. Only once, with no justification required.

Capital Payment at Age 18

At adulthood, each young person receives a sum between €5,000 and €10,000, depending on their social situation. This capital is freely usable, with support. It may be supplemented by an honour loan at zero interest up to €30,000, repayable from the sixth year, as a progressive percentage of income.

Contributory Relief Income (CRI)

Anyone involved in useful, non-market activities (family carer, regular volunteer, artist-educator, committed learner, etc.) receives a guaranteed minimum income from the State.

Salary Cap at 100 Minimum Wages per Month

No individual income (salary, dividend, bonus, etc.) may exceed 100 times the gross monthly minimum wage. The minimum wage becomes a protected reference, not an adjustment variable.

Ethical Success Index (ESI)

Virtuous companies (redistribution, stability, environmental and social ethics) benefit from tax reductions on bonuses paid—on condition that the executive's bonus does not exceed 30× the lowest salary.

Active Solidarity Tax Credit (ASTC)

Each company benefits from a tax credit for employees who devote up to two days per year to useful missions: school interventions, disaster assistance, citizen mentoring, etc. Expertise is placed at the service of the real country.

Philosophy: Karl Polanyi

"The economy is embedded in society. When it forgets that, it is society that fractures."

— Karl Polanyi

Objectives by 2030

- 500,000 protected individual activities created by 2030
- 200,000 young people benefiting from the citizen capital at age 18 by 2029
- 1,000 municipalities with Common Utility Contracts by 2030
- Mandatory publication of the company-employee redistribution rate in all companies with over 100 employees
- Public platform listing all unfilled useful missions by territory

IX. Childhood & Transmission

Sanctuarising Childhood

- No advertising in spaces dedicated to those under 16.
- No touchscreens in primary school; digital tools are supervised, slow, non-addictive.
- Daily free silence time in every school.
- Presence of a human adult reference, available unconditionally and without hierarchy.

Refounding the School

- School becomes a place of awakening, not conditioning.
- Encouragement of experimental teaching methods (nature workshops, debates, open classes).
- Reading of actual laws, ungraded debates, learning the right to make mistakes.

Transmit Without Formatting

- Regular welcoming of living witnesses: elders, craftsmen, poets, carers.
- Every child meets a poet, philosopher, artist, or writer during their schooling.
- National transmission fund accessible to every municipality.
- Once a year, children teach something to adults.

The Right to Free Speech

- Every pupil speaks publicly at least once in their schooling (without grading).
- Ban on all algorithmic monitoring at school: no behavioural AI, no facial recognition.

Duty of Heritage

- Every municipality keeps a living place of memory (trades, struggles, local stories).
- Local teaching and territorial roots are valued.

It is not for the child to adapt to a damaged world.

It is for the world to become welcoming again for the free child.

Philosophy: Maria Montessori & Albert Camus

"The child is not a vase to be filled, but a spring to be allowed to flow."

— Maria Montessori

"To misname things is to add to the misfortune of the world."

— Albert Camus

Objectives by 2030

- 100% of primary schools with a free silence space by 2028
- Every pupil meets a living artist, philosopher or witness before age 16
- One annual "reverse transmission" day in every school

X. Sovereignty & Resilience

Immediate Moratorium on New Privatisations

No strategic public asset may be sold without consulting the people: hospitals, energy, water, transport, data. A citizens' audit will be launched on past privatisations.

Food Sovereignty

- Massive support for local, organic, resilient agriculture
- Relocalised strategic reserves
- Short supply chains, collective kitchens, rural cooperatives

Energy Sovereignty

- National plan for desirable sobriety
- Reduction of structural dependencies
- Citizen reinvestment in local public energy

Inalienable Monetary Sovereignty

- Revision of Article 123 of the Lisbon Treaty to allow the Bank of France to directly finance collective utility projects
- Failing that, targeted withdrawal from this mechanism in line with European values
- Constitutional right to physical currency guaranteed
- Refusal of any centralised digital currency imposed without debate or alternative

Digital Sovereignty & Call to Builders

- Automated public decisions: auditable, explainable, contestable
- Constitutional right to a non-digital service (counter, paper, human contact)
- Sovereign ecosystem: open-source software, public cloud, citizen operating systems
- Appeal to engineers, makers, ethical developers to build useful digital commons
These tools are not incidental. They will become the silent pillars of our living democracy.

Refoundation of Treaties and Alliances

- Every treaty is re-evaluated on human, ecological, and democratic grounds
- Europe is an alliance, not a dogma. France remains at the table, but as an equal, not a vassal

Priority to Local Law

- Municipalities may exercise delegated regulatory power over concrete issues: urban planning, food, digital, housing, sobriety
Where life happens, decision must be able to emerge.

A country without sovereignty becomes a region. A region without a voice becomes a commodity.

Philosophy: Pierre Bourdieu & Simone Weil

“The greatest service one can render to the dominated is to restore their ability to name things.”

— Pierre Bourdieu

“There is no nation without roots. There is no justice without boundaries.”

— Simone Weil

Objectives by 2030

- Public audit on privatisations presented in 2028
- 100% of administrative procedures available with a non-digital alternative
- 30% of energy produced locally by public or citizen initiatives

XI. Ecology & Lifestyles

“Sober Lifestyle” Tax Credit

Every household benefits from an annual tax credit dedicated to sustainable lifestyles: repair, cycling, insulation, sharing, composting, shared tools, etc.

When the credit exceeds tax due, it is converted into a refundable voucher.

The goal is not constraint. The goal is to make common sense easier.

Supervised Rewilding

- Support for refuge zones, sanctuarised forests, ecological corridors
- Each region chooses what to preserve, slow down, or regenerate

Desirable Sobriety

- End of planned obsolescence
- Mandatory 10-year repairability for essential goods

- Priority to use (rather than ownership) in public procurement

Public Repair Network

- Displayed repairability index
- Spare parts available for 10 years
- Creation of a local network of repairers funded by producers

Combating Cultural Obsolescence

- Travelling cinemas, street theatres, public readings
- Reopening spaces for silence, renewal, and non-commercial beauty
- Education in “less but better”: slowness, attention, quality

Ecological Kilometre Tax

An eco-tax is applied to non-essential imported products: 0.01% of their price per kilometre travelled, capped at 60%.

- A product made 100 km away pays 1%
 - A product from 8,000 km away pays 60%
- Goal: relocalise, discourage absurdity, and restore geographical ecology.

We want ecology to no longer be a sacrifice, but a joy.

A way to reconnect with the living, silence, slowness... and the tenderness of reality.

Philosophy: Ivan Illich & Pierre Rabhi

“It is not lack of energy that threatens us, but excessive needs.”

— Ivan Illich

“Sobriety is not deprivation. It is the luxury of being content with the essential.”

— Pierre Rabhi

Objectives by 2030

- 1 repairer for every 5,000 residents in each living area
- 500 rewilding zones created, managed by citizens
- Kilometre tax on all non-essential products imported over 2,000 km

XII. Taxation & Common Goods

Fluid Progressive and Solidarity-Based Scale

Continuous taxation, without brackets, based on a formula inspired by Luxembourg:

$$T = (R \times T(R)) \times C$$

– R = net taxable income

– T(R) = gradually increasing rate (up to 45%)

– C = solidarity coefficient activated in times of crisis or recovery

Taxation becomes an act of dynamic fraternity.

Universal Contributory Income

Fusion of income tax and employee contributions: a single, clear line on every payslip.

Global Tax Cap

No household may be taxed at more than 60% of total income.

Actual rates for elected officials and public enterprises are made public.

Inheritance Reform

Cap at €500,000 per heir (excluding primary residence).

Beyond that: an intergenerational common fund, except for projects deemed useful and approved by citizens.

Ethical, Tiered, and Educational VAT

0% — essentials (food, healthcare, books, water, local transport, repairs)

5–10% — useful and sustainable (simple clothing, bicycles, repairable appliances)

20% — standard goods (standard electronics, furniture)

35–45% — luxury, destructive or very remote goods (luxury SUVs, jets, yachts)

Local & Repairability Bonus

– VAT -2% on products made less than 500 km away

– +5% on non-repairable goods (mandatory index)

Anti-Advertising & Participative VAT

– +3 to 5% for over-advertised products

– Annual citizen vote to modulate certain product categories

Targeted Allocation

– 1% luxury VAT → free artistic fund

– 0.5% on telephony → digital sobriety

End of Unjust Tax Breaks & Minimum Tax

Abolition of unjustified tax breaks. Mandatory minimum tax from €750,000/year.

Real Contribution of Multinationals

Taxation on actual profits. End of artificial arrangements. Contribution to local common goods.

Common Good Taxation

Credit or bonus for sustainable employment, training, commons (repair, mutual aid, culture, etc.)

Citizen Traceability of Every Euro

Public budget monitoring portal. Open, educational data, readable from secondary school.

Philosophy: Étienne de La Boétie & Thomas Paine

“Resolve to serve no more, and you are free.”

— Étienne de La Boétie

“It is not charity, but justice, that must guide society.”

— Thomas Paine

Objectives by 2030

- Abolition of 100 useless or unjust tax breaks
- 1 million households join the real middle class via redistribution

- Digital, natural and land commons enshrined in the Constitution

XIII. Reconciliation & Social Truths

Legalisation of Adult Cannabis, Framed and Citizen-Led

- Legalisation reserved for adults, under strict control
- Citizen cooperatives on a human scale
- Tax revenue dedicated to health and prevention
- Total ban on advertising or incitement
Usage is not celebrated. Hypocrisy is ended.

Development of Tobacco Substitutes

- French supply chain for alternative plants (thyme, lavender, etc.)
- Local products without nicotine or additives
- Citizen-run network or herbalists

- Funded by tobacco and cannabis tax revenue
The flame is not evil. It is what is burned that can be harmful.

Exit Pact and Citizen Redemption

- For trafficking intermediaries without serious violence: conditional pardon
- Commitment to a public pact with the Nation: useful actions, training, transmission
You have not betrayed France. But if you want to rejoin her, she must help you.

Experimental Citizen Villages

- Brownfields, farms, campsites transformed into experimental villages
- Hosting of young people in crisis, willing former offenders, educators, philosophers
- Laboratories of reconstruction: living, thinking, learning together
Not closed centres. Gateways to dignity.

Recognition of the Social Role of the Invisible

- Neighbour protection, conflict mediation, real mutual aid
- Not a celebration, but an acknowledgment of the State's absence
This is not forgiveness. It is lucidity.

Republican Pact with Neighbourhoods

- Audit of abandoned services (school, health, justice, employment)
- Mixed local assemblies: residents, former traffickers, institutions, youth
- Shared commitments, mutual listening

Celebrating a Plural France

- First Sunday of every quarter: fraternity festival per municipality/neighbourhood
- Shared cuisine, life stories, music, shared silence
- Citizen participation, shopkeepers, youth
Fraternity is not voted for. It is lived.

Useful Reality of Immigration

- Contribution to hospitals, construction sites, kitchens, families
- Inclusion in citizenship education, public media, places of memory
- Visibility for dignified, often invisible, journeys
This land has welcomed. It has grown with that. It must be said.

Philosophy: Frantz Fanon & Epictetus

"Each generation must, in relative opacity, discover its mission, fulfil it or betray it."

— Frantz Fanon

"It is not what happens to you that destroys you, but what you do with it."

— Epictetus

Objectives by 2030

- 100% of police stations and gendarmeries renovated to human and technical standards
- Public mediation/conflict prevention channel open 24/7
- 1 psychological crisis listening centre per 100,000 inhabitants
- "Republican Cadets" programme relaunched, optional, focused on human security missions

XIV. Defence, Sovereignty & Resilience

Strategic Audit of the French Army

- Comprehensive evaluation of operational, technological, and human capacities
- Publication of a summary for citizens, to re-establish the link between army and society

Ban on the Resale of Military Technologies

- All technologies developed with public funding are inalienable
- Transfer or resale abroad is prohibited without prior approval from a parliamentary and citizen commission

National Programme for Citizen Resilience Training

- Every citizen receives initial training in first aid, risk prevention, self-defence, and crisis communication
- Modules updated every five years

- Citizens trained serve as local relays in the event of a major crisis

Framed Technological Sovereignty

- Essential digital infrastructures (networks, clouds, data centres, cybersecurity) placed under public and strategic control
- Ethical and resilience audits conducted regularly

Survival Channel and Register of Order Lessons

- Public channel summarising the main crisis lessons (health, security, disasters, economic crises)
- Living register updated after each national shock

France is not a warlike power.

But it cannot remain a spectator in a world threatened by collapse.

Philosophy: Sun Tzu

“The supreme art of war is to subdue the enemy without fighting.”

— Sun Tzu

Objectives by 2030

- Strategic audit presented and made public in 2028
- 100% of young people trained in first aid and resilience before age 20
- Public register of national crises available and updated annually
